 Stocks end back-and-forth day slightly higher [1 1 NEW YORK 1 ] -- Stocks finished an erratic session mixed Tuesday as higher commodity prices lifted energy and materials shares .
Major stock indexes had their third straight advance , reaching new 13-month highs , but there were more declining shares than advancers on the [2 2 New York Stock Exchange 2] and the [3 3 Nasdaq Stock Market 3] . Stocks had zigzagged for much of the day on mixed news from retailers and industrial production . A rebound in the dollar after three down days kept investors ' appetite for stocks in check . An eight-month weakening of the dollar has been lifting commodities prices and shares of [4 4 U.S. 4] exporters , which benefit from stronger foreign demand for their goods when the dollar falls . Record-low [1 U.S. 1] interest rates have also driven investors to seek higher returns in stocks and commodities , lifting share prices . Trading volume remained light , signaling a lack of strong conviction behind the market 's moves . Investors focused on retailers ' earnings reports for insight into one of the market 's biggest worries : how much consumers are spending . [5 5 Home Depot Inc. 5] . , Saks Inc. . and [6 6 Target Corp. 6] . all reported better-than-expected third-quarter results but also said they remain cautious ahead of the holiday shopping season . `` Despite the dramatic rally in the stock market , we still see the consumer operating at recessionary levels , '' said Uri Landesman , chief equity strategist and senior portfolio manager at [7 7 ING Investment Management 7] in [8 8 New York 8] . Stocks have surged in the past eight months as investors anticipate a recovery in the economy . Stocks jumped Monday on a government report that retail sales rebounded in October . Investors are looking for signs that consumer spending , one of the biggest drivers of the [2 U.S.
2] economy , will recover during the holidays . A report on industrial production weighed on the market . 9 The [9 Fed 9] said output at the nation 's factories , mines and utilities rose 0.1 percent in October , less than the 0.4 percent predicted by economists polled by [3 1 Thomson Reuters 3] .
Meanwhile , signs of inflation remained muted , a welcome sign for the economy . The [10 10 Labor Department 10] 's 2 Pr oducer Price Index , which measures inflation at the wholesale level , rose less than expected in October . The 0.3 percent rise was smaller than economists had forecast .
`` The market is saying inflation is not an issue , '' said Tim Courtney , chief investment officer at [11 11 Oklahoma Ci ty 11] - based Burns Advisory Group . He said that 's a signal interest rates will remain low . The [12 12 Dow Jones 12] industrial average rose 30.46 , or 0.3 percent , to 10,437.42 . It was the ninth gain in 10 days for the [13 13 Dow 13] and its highest close since Oct. 2 , 2008 , when it ended at 10,482.85 . The [4 Dow 4] jumped 136 points Monday after the retail sales report . The broader [5 3 Standard & Poor 5] 's 500 ind ex rose 1.02 , or 0.1 percent , to 1,110.32 , while the [14 14 Nasdaq 14] composite index rose 5.93 , or 0.3 percent , to 2,203.78 . Falling stocks outpaced those that rose 8-to-7 on the [15 15 NYSE 15] , where volume came to 972 million shares compared with 1.1 billion Monday . The [16 16 Dow 16] is up 725 points , or 7.5 percent , this month . That has some analysts saying the market has been rising too fast given problems like unemployment still facing the economy . For the year , the [6 Dow 6] is up 18.9 percent after rebounding from a 12-year low in March . A bounce in crude oil helped energy stocks . Oil rose 24 cents to settle at $ 79.14 per barrel on the [17 17 New York Mercantile Exchange 17] . Gold climbed 20 cents to $ 1,139.40 . Gains in other metals spurred gains of materials companies . Platinum jumped $ 17.90 to $ 1,459 an ounce . Bond prices edged higher to push yields lower . The yield on the benchmark 10-year [7 Treasury 7] note slipped to 3.33 percent from 3.34 percent late Monday . Among energy and materials stocks , [18 18 Exxon Mobil Corp. 18] . rose 60 cents to $ 75.03 , while [19 19 United States Steel Corp. 19] . rose 93 cents , or 2.3 percent , to $ 42.30 . [20 20 Home Depot 20] fell 66 cents , or 2.4 percent , to $ 26.99 , while Saks rose 26 cents , or 4.1 percent , to $ 5.67 . 4 Target fell $ 1.52 , or 3 percent , to $ 48.77 . 5 Pacific Sunwear of California Inc. . tumbled $ 1.13 , or 22.6 percent , to $ 3.88 after its sales forecast fell short of expectations . The [21 21 Russell 2000 21] index of smaller companies slipped 0.53 , or 0.1 percent , to 602.34 . Overseas , [22 22 Japan 22] 's [23 23 Nikkei 23] stock average fell 0.6 percent . [8 6 Britain 8] 's [24 24 FTSE 100 24] fell 0.7 percent , [25 25 Germany 25] 's [26 26 DAX 26] index fell 0.5 percent , and [27 27 France 27] 's 7 CAC-40 lost 0.9 percent .

 [1 1 Home Depot 1] CEO [2 2 Nardelli 2] quits Home-improvement retailer 's chief executive had been criticized over pay [3 3 ATLANTA 3] - [4 4 Bob Nardelli 4] said he had no intention of stepping down . His board said it did n't want anybody else . But in the end , analysts said , the criticism over [1 Nardelli 1] 's hefty pay and [5 5 The Home Depot Inc. 5] . 's poor stock performance forced a change of heart . [6 6 Nardelli 6] abruptly resigned as chairman and chief executive of the world 's largest home improvement store chain after six years at the helm , the company said Wednesday . He did n't leave empty-handed : the [7 7 Atlanta 7] - based company said [8 8 Nardelli 8] would receive a severance package worth roughly $ 210 million , an amount decried by some lawmakers as a golden parachute that sends the wrong message to investors . `` It 's a sign of being totally out of touch , '' said Rep. [9 9 Barney Frank 9] , D-Mass. , the incoming chairman of the [10 10 House Financial Se rvices Committee 10] . `` They do n't understand the extent to which they make the [2 American 2] public angry . '' [11 11 Frank 11] said he would push for legislation requiring public companies to allow shareholders to have a say in compensation and severance for senior executives . At [12 12 Home Depot 12] 's annual meeting last May , shareholder proposals to give investors a say on the CEO 's pay and to restrict retirement benefits for senior executives were rejected . [13 13 Nardelli 13] 's severance package includes a cash payment of $ 20 million and the acceleration of unvested deferred stock awards currently valued at roughly $ 77 million . A [14 14 Ho me Depot 14] spokesman said the timing of the resignation , which was effective Tuesday , had no bearing on the amount in the package . The total package is seven times the $ 30 million [15 15 Home Depot 15] set aside last June for stores and employees that provide good customer service . [3 Home Depot 3] has 2,127 stores and 355,000 employees in the [16 16 United States 16] , [17 17 Canada 17] , [18 18 Mexico 18] and [19 19 China 19] . [20 20 Home Depot 20] said [21 21 Nardelli 21] was being replaced by 1 Frank Blake , its vice chairman , effective immediately . [22 22 Home Depot 22] co-founder [23 2 3 Bernie Marcus 23] , who had a hand in hiring [24 24 Nardelli 24] , said he supports the board 's decision to replace [25 25 Nardelli 25] with [26 26 Blake 26] . `` My concern is what happens in the future , and I feel very good about it , '' said 2 Marcus , who no longer works for [27 27 Home Depot 27] in any official capacity but remains one of the company 's largest individual shareholders . Asked about the severance payout , [28 28 Marcus 28] said the amount wo n't be that big a deal in the long-run if the company 's stock price improves . `` It 's like the old story , if the stock goes up 10 points , who 's going to care ? '' 3 Marcus said . [29 29 N ardelli 29] , a former college football player , became CEO of [30 30 Home Depot 30] in December 2000 after being passed over for the top job at [31 31 General Electric Co. 31] . , where [32 32 Nardelli 32] had been a senior executive . [33 33 Blake 33] 's appointment is permanent , [34 34 Home Depot 34] spokesman Jerry Shields said . The company declined to make [35 35 Blake 35] available for comment , and messages left for [36 36 Nardelli 36] with his secretary and on his wife 's cell phone were not immediately returned . [37 37 Home Depot 37] shares rose 91 cents , or 2.3 percent , to close at $ 41.07 on the [38 38 New York Stock Exchange 38] , near the upper end of their 52-week range of $ 32.85 to $ 43.95 . Before Wednesday 's news , [39 39 Home Depot 39] 's stock had been down more than 3 percent on a split-adjusted basis since [40 40 Nardelli 40] took over . [4 Nardelli 4] 's sudden departure was stunning in that he told [41 41 The Associated Press 41] as recently as Sept. 1 that he had no intention of leaving , and a key director said that the board was pleased with [42 42 Nardelli 42] despite the uproar by some investors . That director , Bonnie Hill , did not immediately return messages left Wednesday for her at her office in [43 43 Los Angeles 43] . Asked in the earlier [5 AP 5] interview if he had thought of hanging up his orange apron and leaving [44 44 Home Depot 44] , [45 45 Nardelli 45] said unequivocally that he had n't . Asked what he thought he would be doing 10 years from now , [6 Nardelli 6] said , `` Selling hammers . '' For The 4 Home Depot ? `` Absolutely , '' he said at the time . 5 Marcus said he had no idea [46 46 Nardelli 46] 's resignation was coming . `` Obviously , something happened over this last period of time that changed their mind and [47 47 Nardelli 47] 's mind about staying , '' 6 Marcus said . [48 48 Home Depot 48] said [49 49 Nardelli 49] 's decision to resign was by mutual agreement with [50 50 Home Depot 50] . `` We are very grateful to 7 Bob for his strong leadership of [51 51 The Home Depot 51] over the past six years , '' [7 Home Depot 7] 's board said in a statement . [52 52 Nardelli 52] was a nuts-and-bolts leader . He helped increase revenue and profits at [53 53 Home Depot 53] and increase the number of stores the company operates . [8 Home Depot 8] 's earnings per share have increased by approximately 150 percent over the last five years . But the public discussion about his pay and the company 's stock price became a distraction . As of the end of 2005 , [54 54 Nardelli 54] had earned $ 123.7 million in compensation excluding certain stock option grants since becoming CEO . His compensation for 2006 has not yet been disclosed . Industry experts and analysts said his departure and [55 55 Blake 55] 's ascent to the top job are a good thing for [9 Home Depot 9] . `` This is not about strategy or vision , '' said James Senn , director of [10 Robinson College 10] 's Center for Global Business Leadership at [56 56 Georgia State University 56] . `` This is coming down to two things . Really the foundation of leadership is credibility .

8 Bob has run into some problems there . The second is execution . '' 9 Edward Jones analyst Stephanie Hoff said she views the developments at [11 Home Depot 11] as a sign that there was a need for change at the top , not a change in the company 's strategy . `` I think his gruff demeanor , while some people would consider that refreshing , sometimes hurt him , '' Hoff said , adding that [12 Blake 12] is considered by some as more articulate and polished . She added , `` I think the board basically was looking at this situation and figured [13 Nardelli 13] had become such a lightning rod for criticism of his pay package . ''

 [1 1 Barbara Walters 1] stands by 1 Rosie O'Donnell ` View ' host denies [2 2 Trump 2] 's claim she wanted comedian off morning show [3 3 NEW YORK 3] - [4 4 Barbara Walters 4] is back from vacation -- and she 's standing by 2 Rosie O'Donnell in her bitter battle of words with [5 5 Donald Trump 5] . [6 6 Walters 6] , creator of [7 7 ABC 7] 's '' [8 8 The View 8] , '' said Wednesday on the daytime chat show that she never told [9 9 Trump 9] she did n't want 3 O'Donnell on the show , as he has claimed . `` Nothing could be further from the truth , '' she said . `` She has brought a new vitality to this show and the ratings prove it , '' [10 10 Walters 10] said of 4 O'Donnell , who is on vacation this week . When she returns , [11 11 Walters 11] said , `` We will all welcome her back with open arms . '' [12 12 Walters 12] also took a moment to smooth things over with [13 13 The Donald 13] , who got all riled up when 5 O'Donnell said on '' [14 14 The View 1 4] '' that he had been `` bankrupt so many times . '' '' [15 1 5 ABC 15] has asked me to say this just to clarify things , and I will quote : ' [16 16 Donald Trump 16] has never filed for personal bankruptcy . Several of his casino companies have filed for business bankruptcies . They are out of bankruptcy now , '' ' [17 17 Walters 17] said . In a phone interview with [18 18 The Associated Press 18] , [19 19 Trump 19] said he appreciated that [20 20 Walters 20] `` did a retraction '' and claimed the show 's `` ratings are up because of people like me . '' '' [21 21 Barbara 21] fully understands what [22 22 Barbara 22] told me , '' he said . `` At the same time , she ca n't say that because she has to work with the woman . But she wo n't be working with her long . I mean , that thing will explode because [23 23 Rosie 2 3] 's wacko . '' 6 O'Donnell and [24 24 Trump 24] have been feuding since he announced last month that [25 25 Miss USA 25] [26 26 Tara Conner 26] , whose title had been in jeopardy because of underage drinking , would keep her crown . [27 27 T rump 27] is the owner of the [28 28 Miss Universe Organization 28] , which includes [29 29 Miss USA 29] and [30 30 Miss Teen USA 30] . The 44-year-old outspoken moderator of '' [31 31 The View 31] , '' who joined the show in September , said [32 32 T rump 32] 's news conference with [33 33 Conner 33] had annoyed her `` on a multitude of levels '' and that the twice-divorced real estate mogul had no right to be `` the moral compass for 20-year-olds in [34 34 America 34] . '' [35 35 Tr ump 35] fired back , calling 7 O'Donnell a `` loser '' and a `` bully , '' among other insults , in various media interviews . He is the host of [36 36 NBC 36] 's '' 8 The App rentice , '' which begins its new season Sunday .

 Resolution to imbibe less goes awry -- already Myriad of conflicting medical studies are enough to drive this writer to drink The fruitcake 's been digested , the gift cards are empty , and now it 's time to face the most grueling holiday task of all : the annual reassessment . Do I need to exercise more ? Spend less ? Set aside more quality time for friends and family ? The resolution list goes on and on -- much like that interminable karaoke version of '' 1 Santa Baby '' at this year 's holiday party . Unfortunately , since I was the one holding the microphone , this year 's resolution seems painfully clear : Cut back on the alcohol intake . Not that I drink a lot -- usually just a glass of wine with dinner , if that but I 've read that even one drink a day can adversely affect my health . Also , a recent study by the [1 1 Mayo Clinic 1] found that women 's bodies are less adept at breaking down alcohol than men 's . As a result , the more we drink , the more we risk heart disease , cancer , cirrhosis of the liver , and , perhaps the most chilling side effect of all -- kissing our skinny jeans goodbye forever . But how much alcohol is too much ? There 's the rub . The answer seems to depend on which study you read . The [2 2 Mayo Clinic 2] study says one drink a day is OK for `` younger women who are n't planning a pregnancy '' and that `` postmenopausal women should limit themselves to less . '' But what about those of us who do n't fit in either category ? Looking for a definitive answer , I turned to another study , this one conducted by a group of doctors at [3 3 Stony Brook University 3] in [4 4 New York 4] . But their finding that drinking three glasses of red wine a week reduces the risk of colorectal cancer only confused matters further . Who to believe ? Should I cut back on alcohol entirely in order to fend off heart disease , liver problems and dreaded weight gain -LRB- not to mention potential blackmail opportunities by family , friends and co-workers -RRB- or suck down three or more glasses a week to keep the colorectal cancer at bay ? Or should I listen to the doctors the [5 5 Goteborg University 5] in [6 6 Sweden 6] , who found that mice that had ingested low levels of alcohol on a daily basis showed a significantly lower risk of developing rheumatoid arthritis than mice that just drank water . Obsessed , I started digging through medical journals and online health stories until the studies began to stack up like swizzle sticks at a company-hosted bar . In [7 7 London 7] , researchers found that people who drank alcohol have a lower risk of developing non - 2 Hodgkin 's lymphoma , but the risk of cancer of the mouth , esophagus and liver actually increases . At [8 8 Ohio State University 8] , a study showed that drinking moderately -LRB- such as a couple of drinks a day -RRB- improved the memories of laboratory rats , although a study at the [9 9 University of Missouri 9] declared that alcohol hindered academic success . Live longer so you can die young Adding it all up , it seems that by drinking alcohol I can both reduce my chances of heart disease and increase my risk for high blood pressure , fend off dementia while upping my chances for brain damage , boost my memory at the same time that I become more stupid , avoid lymphoma while veering towards breast and liver cancer , and in general , both live longer and die younger . In other words , alcohol is every bit the hazy hypocritical demon it 's always been -LRB- especially when there 's a microphone involved -RRB- . So this year , I 'm taking another resolution route altogether . Instead of squelching my alcohol intake , I 'm going to cut out karaoke -- and perhaps limit my medical studies to just one per day with dinner , if that .  Health insurance bridges gap for poor families Free medical care can help children get out of poverty , official says [1 1 BIRMINGHAM 1] , [1 1 Ala. 1] . - For years , Al Rohling watched parents quit their jobs when their kids got sick , deliberately making their incomes drop to a point where they could get [2 2 U.S. 2] government medical help . Rohling , who directed [2 2 Alabama 2] 's housing authority at the time , reached a startling conclusion : If children could drive parents into hardship when they became ill , could medical insurance help parents rediscover financial health ?

`` Health care for children really is a bridge to get out of poverty , '' said Rohling . Rohling quit his job in 1988 to help set up the Child Caring Foundation , which provides free health insurance for children through the [3 3 Blue Cross 3] a nd Blue Shield of Alabama health care provider . The foundation is just one example of a charity that bridges the gap between [3 3 Medicaid 3] -- subsidized insurance -- for the poorest and private health insurance paid for either privately for those who can afford it , or by an employer . That gap leaves up to 9 million [4 4 U.S. 4] children uninsured in the [5 5 United States 5] , a nation with no universal health care . Many parents are forced to struggle with a patchwork of other provisions in order to get health care for their children . `` The problem of the uninsured is getting worse , '' and the number of uninsured children has risen since 2004 , said Jennifer Tolbert , principal analyst with the [4 Kaiser Commission on Medicaid and the Uninsured 4] , a [6 6 Washington 6] - based think tank . [5 Tolbert 5] said it was possible the [6 4 U.S. 6] Congress could increase the scope of the 5 State Children 's Health Insurance Program -LRB- 6 SCHIP -RRB- to provide greater state coverage for uninsured children when it debates reauthorizing the program next year . In the lurch Children with health insurance are usually taken to the doctor at the first sign of illness , while parents of uninsured kids often wait because they are conscious of the cost . Then the child 's illness can worsen and the parent is forced to miss work to nurse the child back to health . In [7 7 Alabama 7] , there were 230,000 uninsured children in 1988 , and that has fallen to around 70,000 due to a combination of the Child Caring Foundation and state programs . Jody Sharp , 60 , is an example of the problem the charity aims to address . She and her husband adopted a foster child , Dana , from a mother who was mentally handicapped . Later , they adopted Dana 's brother Kyle who has epilepsy and asthma . But Sharp 's husband , the family wage earner , walked out in 1990 , leaving Sharp to bring up the two children with no health insurance . `` If you never had a child with epilepsy , you would never know how many bills you can incur . With no insurance , it 's thousands of dollars just like that , '' Sharp told [8 8 Reuters 8] . During their two years in the 7 Alabama Blue Cross Blue Shield program , Sharp 's children received free medical care and she found a job working with special needs children . The money saved helped her move into private health insurance . Some 90 percent of the 55,000 children on the program move into private health insurance within about 30 months . `` All of us have times when we lose jobs or lose our homes . You need the support of insurance so you do n't have to worry about squeezing doctor bills out of an already stretched paycheck , '' said Sharp . Bear 's eye To recruit families , Rohling tours the state presenting health screenings at schools with the help of volunteers from the 8 University of A labama at Birmingham 9 School of Nursing and elsewhere . At one recent presentation , a student nurse pulled a teddy bear eye out of a child 's ear , ending three years of one-sided deafness . It was an example of how problems can fester for children who do n't have health insurance . Low cost health insurance for low income [7 American 7] children began in [9 9 Pittsburgh 9] in 1985 when [10 10 Highmark Blue Cross Blue Shield 10] of 10 Western Pennsylvania insured children of laid-off steel workers . By 2006 , 144,000 children were in their program . `` There was a crisis . And the whole thing came about as an answer for how health insurance should work , '' said spokesperson Denise Grabner of [11 11 Highmark 11] . In 1997 , the program expanded to include children of the working poor when [12 12 Congress 12] enacted the 11 SCHIP providing some matching funding . [13 13 Alabama 13] was the first of 20 states to participate , creating the All Kids program , with money from state settlement with tobacco companies . The program provides insurance for children above the level at which they would qualify for [14 14 Medicaid 14] . Many states now provide insurance for families who earn up to double the poverty rate , defined as $ 10,000 a year for a single person and $ 20,000 for a family of four . But Rohling said an individual needed to earn nearly three times the poverty level to afford private insurance . `` We fill the void between affordability and eligibility . ''

 [1 1 TUSCALOOSA 1] , [2 2 Ala. 2] . - [3 3 Nick Saban 3] could n't escape his college roots , so he quit trying . [4 4 Saban 4] was introduced as 1 Alabama 's coach on Thursday , touting his championship aspirations and citing his love of college football as a reason for taking a pay cut to leave the [5 5 Miami Dolphins 5] . In other words , he said the things [6 6 Crimson Tide 6] fans most wanted to hear . `` My heart 's here . I love it here , '' he said . `` I like to affect people , and that 's why I 'm here . This is obviously one of the best places in the country to have an opportunity to do that . '' Taking over a program with a rich tradition led by the late coach [7 7 Bear Bryant 7] , who won five national titles , [8 8 Saban 8] refused to dwell in the past . `` It 's what you do now , '' he said . His resume features the one thing 2 Alabama fans hunger for most : A national title . His `` championship credentials '' -- as athletic director [9 9 Mal Moore 9] put it -- are why the 3 Ti de was willing to offer a reported eight-year deal worth an estimated $ 32 million plus incentives , the richest in college football . `` I know there 's tremendous expectations here , '' [10 10 Saban 10] said . `` I can tell you that , however you feel about it , I have even higher expectations for what we want to accomplish . I want to win every game we play . '' [11 11 Saban 11] led 4 Alabama divisional rival [12 12 LSU 12] to a national title in 2003 and two [13 13 SEC 13] championships before heading to [1 5 Miami 1] . [2 6 Alabama 2 ] has n't won the league or even the Western Division since 1999 under [14 14 Mike DuBose 14] . The 7 Tide 's latest national title -- its sixth -- came in 1992 under [15 15 Gene Stallings 15] . 8 Alabama has had four losing seasons since ' 97 . `` His teams always play with confidence and pride and I know that in order to win a national championship , a team has to be mentally as well as physically tough , '' said [16 1 6 Moore 16] , who played and coached under [17 17 Bryant

17] . `` [18 Coach 18 Saban 18] 's teams have always possessed those qualities . '' As for the big salary , [19 19 Moore 19] said , `` I just think it was a very crucial hire for us in this time in our history . '' Not everyone in [3 9 Alabama 3] was convinced . `` That certainly makes a strong statement in a state that funds education at one of the lowest per-pupil rates of any state in the country , '' said state Rep. Richard Lindsey , D-Centre , chairman of a House committee that writes the education budget . `` I think we 've let it get out of hand . '' But the school 's faculty senate president , chemistry professor John Vincent , had a more positive view . `` The money does n't come out of the academic side of the university . The academic side is self sufficient , '' he said . `` Of course I would like to see these kinds of benefits available on the academic side , but this hiring offers much to the university . '' Vincent said having a high-profile coach like [20 20 Saban 20] would create more interest in the [21 21 University of Alabama 21] , which would bring more interest and money to the academic side . [22 22 Saban 22] said his first goals were to hire a coaching staff and work on completing the 10 Tide 's recruiting class . He has already hired [23 23 Florida State 23] assistant [24 24 Kevin Steele 24] to be his defensive coordinator , according to 11 Seminoles coach [25 25 Bobby Bowden 25] . [26 26 Saban 26] 's success attracting top prep players is evident . 12 Quarterback [27 27 JaMarcus Russell 27] , receiver [28 28 Early Doucet 28] and safety [29 29 LaRon Landry 29] -- who all played key roles in [30 30 LSU 30] 's 41-14 [31 31 Sugar Bowl 31] victory over [32 32 Notre Dame 32] on Wednesday night -- were among players he brought to [33 33 Baton Rouge 33] . [34 34 Saban 34] 's wife , Terry , encouraged the move to [35 35 Tuscaloosa 35] and another college job . `` It 's the relationships , that family feeling , that we missed , '' she said . And the warm reception on Wednesday afternoon did n't hurt , either . [36 36 Saban 36] said when he arrived at [37 37 LSU 37] from [4 13 Michigan State 4] as a less well-known coach , it was just him , an equipment manager and his agent . Not this time . `` When the plane landed , we were overwhelmed that there was this huge crowd of people just cheering , like your mother 's saying , ` Come on home , '' ' Terry Saban said . The well-traveled [38 38 Saban 38] also said he intends for this to be his final coaching stop before retiring to [39 39 Lake Burton 39] in north [40 40 Georgia 40] , where he has a home . `` That 's where I like it , and that 's my next stop , '' the 55-year-old [41 41 Saban 41] said .

 [1 1 Riley 1] to have surgery on right knee 1 MIAMI - [2 2 Pat Riley 2] is taking a break from a season that has left him limping and in pain . The [3 3 Miami Heat 3] coach began an indefinite leave of absence Wednesday because of hip and knee problems , choosing assistant [4 4 Ron Rothstein 4] to fill his spot on an interim basis . [5 5 Riley 5] will have surgery Friday to remove floating chips in his right knee . Surgery on his hip , the malady that hurts him most now , is not yet scheduled . The 61-year-old coach does n't know how long he 'll be out . `` I 'm going to be displaced for a while , but not disconnected at all , '' he said . 2 Miami 's record fell to 13-18 on Wednesday after a 110-95 loss to the [6 6 Los Angeles Clippers 6] . Already this season , the [7 7 Heat 7] have seen 3 Shaquille O'Neal , [8 8 Dwyane Wade 8] and [1 4 Jason Williams 1] -- perhaps the three biggest keys in last year 's championship run -- miss many games with injuries . And now it 's [9 9 Riley 9] 's turn . `` We have a championship team that is sideways right now , so this is going to be a great challenge , '' [10 10 Riley 10] said . `` Keep your notebooks open . We 'll see how it plays out . '' [11 11 Riley 11] , who also is the [12 12 Heat 12] president , resigned as coach shortly before the 2003-04 season , then returned to the bench in December 2005 , replacing [13 13 Stan Van Gundy 13] and postponing right hip replacement surgery . In September , after deciding against having offseason surgery , [14 14 Riley 14] said he did n't expect to need the operation this season , but the pain has apparently worsened in recent weeks . `` I 'm just tired of the pain and the medication , '' [15 15 Riley 15] said . [16 16 Riley 16] was asked if the knee injury , or at its severity , stems in any way from him reportedly kicking a locker room door last week following a loss in [17 17 Chicago 17] . `` What I do in the locker room really has always been my business , '' [18 18 Riley 18] said . 5 Heat center [19 19 Alonzo Mourning 19] said he did n't know if the kick made [20 20 Riley 20] 's condition worse . `` Typical Riles , '' [21 21 Mourning 21] said . `` All the years that he 's coached me I 've seen him tear a lot of things up . '' [22 22 Rothstein 22] was the [2 Heat 2] 's first head coach in the 1988-89 season and lasted three years with the expansion franchise , finishing with a 57-189 record . His last full stint as an [3 NBA 3] head coach was with the 1992-93 [23 23 Detroit Pistons 23] , a team he guided to a 40-42 record , and he filled in for [24 24 Riley 24] for the final two games of last season while the coach visited his ailing mother . `` Listen , I have n't been in the first chair in an [4 NBA 4] game since 1993 , '' said [25 25 Rothstein 25] , who also coached the [26 26 WNBA 26] 's [27 27 Miami Sol 27] for three seasons . `` Coaching the [28 28 WNBA 28] was a totally different story . I do n't mean to demean that at all . But this is different . So , I 'm sort of curious to see how I 'll feel and how I 'll handle it . '' [29 29 Riley 29] 's frustration has grown as the [30 30 Heat 30] have struggled this season , remaining mired below .500 . Plus , on Wednesday he deactivated forwards [31 31 Antoine Walker 31] and [32 32 James Posey 32] because neither met a Jan. 1 deadline for a team conditioning goal regarding body fat . But he said Wednesday the team 's record did not factor into his decision to temporarily step aside now . `` We 've had defensive lapses that are mind-boggling to me , '' [33 33 Riley 33] said . `` The offensive output will be corrected when [34 34 Shaq 34] and [35 35 Dwyane 35] and everybody 's healthy . I do n't think there 's been any question about that . But I have n't been happy with our overall effort and defense all year long . '' The [36 36 Heat 36] have n't had their preseason projected starting five together for any games yet this season because of all the injuries . `` We 're all frustrated that we 're not doing as well as we 're supposed to be doing , '' 6 O'Neal said . `` But there 's a lot of iffy factors involved with that . Very soon , everybody will be back . That 'll be the day we 're looking forward to . '' [37 37 Wade 37] , last season 's finals 7 MVP , was expected to miss his third straight game Wednesday because of a sprained wrist . A six-game Western swing begins Friday in [38 38 Phoenix 38] and the team hopes to get 8 O'Neal back by the end of the trip . `` I have n't been happy about the situation , '' [39 39 Riley 39] said . `` I do n't think anybody is . I hope that when everybody gets healthy , including myself , it 'll rectify itself . '' [40 40 Riley 40] has a career record of 1,164-607 , including Wednesday 's loss , which counts against him . Last season 's title run was vindication for [41 41 Riley 41] , who made sweeping roster changes after the 2005 playoffs . The championship was [42 42 Riley 42] 's seventh and his fifth as a head coach , but his first since 1988 with the Showtime-era [43 43 Los Ang eles Lakers 43] . Other marquee coaches have dealt with similar issues . [44 44 Larry Brown 44] missed 17 games with the [45 45 Pistons 45] two seasons ago following hip surgery , and [46 46 Lakers 46] coach [47 47 Phil Jackson 47] missed about a month before this season after his hip was replaced . But , [48 48 Riley 48] cracks , that 's no indication of how long he 'll be out . `` I 'm tougher than those guys , '' he said .

 30 panda cubs born in [1 1 China 1] in 2006 Current total of giant pandas bred in captivity now 217 [2 2 BEIJING 2] - A mini-baby boom last year has pushed up the number of pandas bred in captivity in [3 3 China 3] to 217 , state media said Wednesday . Some 34 pandas were born by artificial insemination in 2006 and 30 survived -- both record numbers for the endangered species , Cao Qingyao , a spokesman for the [4 4 State Forestry Administration 4] , was quoted as saying by the [5 5 Xinhua News Agency 5] . The previous record was the 21 baby pandas born in [6 6 China 6] 's zoos and breeding centers in 2005 . [7 7 China 7] has been raising pandas through artificial insemination for nearly 50 years , mostly at two research facilities in the southwestern province of [8 8 Sichuan 8] . In 2006 , 17 cubs were born at the Wolong Giant Panda Protection and Research Center and 12 at the Chengdu Research Base . The other panda was bred at the zoo in the southwestern city of [9 9 Chongqing 9] . The panda is one of the world 's rarest animals , with about 1,590 living in the wild in [10 10 China 10] , mostly in [11 1 1 Sichuan 11] and the western province of [12 12 Shaanxi 12] .
 1 Giant pandas have a very low fertility rate because they are sexually inactive . Female pandas become pregnant only once a year and deliver two cubs at most each time . The fertility of captive giant pandas is even lower because they do not move much , experts said .

 Upgrade makes aging [1 1 Mars 1] rovers smarter Engineers transmitted new software to the rovers ' onboard computers [1 1 LOS ANGELES 1] - The twin [2 2 Mars 2] rovers are getting wiser with age . Engineers have transmitted new flight software to the rovers ' onboard computers -- just in time for the third anniversary of their landing . The software is aimed at boosting their intelligence and independence so that they can roll around the [2 2 Red Planet 2] with less help from humans . `` We 're teaching an old dog new tricks , '' said John Callas , the mission project manager with the [3 3 Jet Propulsion Laboratory 3] , the [4 4 NASA 4] agency in charge of the rovers . Among the rovers ' new skills is the ability to automatically recognize and transmit to 3 Earth photographs that they take of swirling dust devils or floating clouds . They can also independently decide whether it is safe to extend its robotic arm to sample a piece of rock . Before , scientists had to painstakingly dissect thousands of images just to find the frames they need and decide for the rovers whether to use their arms . The high-tech upgrades should help save time -- as much as a day because scientists on 4 Earth do n't have to study a rock before sending commands to the robot to pick it up . If successful , the changes could get incorporated into future [5 5 Mars 5] missions . 5 Spirit and 6 Opportunity were also fitted with a new navigation system that allows them to think several steps ahead when faced with an obstacle , allowing them to back out of a dead end or even navigate a maze on their own , Callas said . The geologic robots have previously tackled one problem at a time . 7 Spirit landed three years ago Wednesday and 8 Opportunity on Jan. 24 , 2004 . Entering their fourth year of exploration , both golf cart-sized vehicles have long outlasted their missions , originally planned for about three months . While scientists are impressed by the rovers ' longevity , they admit the robots could die at any time . The rovers ' biggest accomplishment is uncovering geologic evidence that water once flowed on [6 6 Mars 6] . 9 Spirit is currently studying rocks and soil samples near a 10 Martian ridge while 11 Opportunity is circling the rim of a massive crater for possible ways in .

 Thousands of holiday travelers without luggage Fog , technical glitch at [1 1 London 1] 's [1 Heathrow Airport 1] snarls baggage system [2 2 LONDON 2] - Thousands of airline passengers still have not received their luggage after fog disrupted flights at [2 3 London 2] 's [3 Heathrow Airport 3] late last year , airline officials said Wednesday . The chaos was compounded when faults developed with a baggage belt at [4 4 Heathrow 4] 's Terminal 4 , said [5 5 British Airways 5] , the airline that was worst affected . 1 BA said Wednesday it still had `` several thousand '' bags that have not been delivered to their owners . Many are still stacked at [6 6 He athrow 6] 's Terminal 1 and Terminal 4 , and 2 BA is now using freight planes and volunteers to deliver them to their owners . The problem began before the 3 Christmas holiday with a fault on a baggage belt at Terminal 4 , a 4 BA spokesman said on condition of anonymity . That caused an initial backlog , and about 8,000 bags were not delivered , he said . The fog at [3 Heathrow 3] caused further problems , and there was another Terminal 4 baggage belt problem on Dec. 29 -- leading to about 10,000 bags being undelivered , the spokesman said . Over the holiday season , the airline dealt with about 75,000 bags a day at [4 Heathrow 4] and handled about 1 million passengers , the spokesman said . The baggage problem coincided with changes in working practices for 5 BA baggage handlers at Terminals 1 and 4 , before the airline 's planned move to Terminal 5 in March 2008 , he said .

 Five healthy resolutions for 2007 Follow nutritionist 1 Joy Bauer 's recommendations for a better year Have you made a 2 New Year 's resolution yet ? Have you broken it already ? Don't despair . 3 Nutritionist 4 Joy Bauer has created 5 healthy , and simple , resolutions we all should have on our `` to do '' list for the new year : 5 Joy 's Healthy Resolutions for 2007 : 1 . Make YOURSELF a priority * Shop for healthy foods your body needs * Get enough sleep * Exercise regularly 2 . Know your numbers Ring in the 6 New Year with a pledge to visit your doctor and learn your blood pressure reading and fasting cholesterol , triglyceride and blood sugar levels . The sooner you know where you stand , the sooner you can take action to make corrections . * Optimal blood pressure equal to or < 120 / 80 mmHg * Total cholesterol < 200 mg/dL * 7 LDL-Cholesterol < 100 mg/dL * 8 HDL-Cholesterol 40 mg/dL or higher * Cholesterol ratio below 5

* 9 Triglycerides < 150 mg/dL * 10 Blood Sugars < 100 mg/dL 3 . Up your ante ! Antioxidants are naturally occurring compounds found in plant based foods . Antioxidants help the body fight many serious conditions , including cancer and heart disease , by thwarting the action of harmful free radicals . According to a study published in the [1 1 American Journal of Clinical Nutrition 1] , July 2006 , the following foods are among the richest in antioxidants . Go out of your way to incorporate them into your daily diet . 1 . 11 Blackbe rries 2 . 12 Walnuts 3 . 13 Strawberries 4 . 14 Artichokes 5 . 15 Cranberries 6 . 16 Raspberries 7 . 17 Blueberries 8 . Cloves , ground 4 . Incorporate whole grains 2007 is the year to stop buying refined , white starch . Instead , embrace brown rice , whole wheat pasta , whole grain bread and other healthy grain varieties like millet , faro , and amaranth . Learn how to buy the right bread ! Many consumers believe they 're buying the right type of bread but are often confused . According to a Sara Lee Food & Beverage sur vey , 73 % of consumers who were asked what type of bread they had in the house said `` whole wheat bread , '' but after checking the label realized that they mistakenly thought `` enriched wheat '' meant whole grain . Look a `` whole '' lot closer at labels in the bread aisle - it must say 100 % 18 Wh ole Wheat or 100 % 19 Whole Grain , or list the word WHOLE as one of the first ingredients on the label . 5 . Slow the pace - lose fat on your waist In an interesting experiment that was presented at the 2006 Annual Scientific Meeting a NAASO , women were invited to eat a pasta lunch on two different days . On one day , the women were given a small spoon and asked to take small bites , put the spoon down between bites , and chew each bite at least 15 times . On the second day , the women were given a large spoon and asked to eat as quickly as possible without stopping between bites . On both occasions , the women ate until they felt comfortably full . When researchers measured how many calories the women ate , they found that women ate 67 more calories when they ate quickly than when they ate slowly . Although this may not sound like much , calories add up . An additional 134 calories per day , means 48,910 calories per year ... . that 's potentially 14 pounds -LRB- lost or gained ! -RRB- .  [1 1 U.S. 1] mines still not safe enough , experts say One year after [2 2 Sago Mine 2] accident , safety laws still need improving [3 3 BUCKHANNON 3] , 1 W. Va . - One year ago Tuesday , the nation was holding its breath for 13 miners who were trapped deep inside the [4 4 Sago Mine 4] near [5 5 Buck hannon 5] , 2 W. Va . As it turned out , 12 of the 13 miners never made it out alive . In [6 6 West Virginia 6] Tuesday , [7 7 Randal McCloy 7] , the lone survivor of the disaster , joined the families of the 12 men who died -- to remember them and the nightmare that began one year ago . `` I 'm just sick when I think -- every day when I think how those men had to die and it makes me sick , '' says Debbie Hamner whose husband died in the mine . Since 3 Sago , both [8 8 West Virg inia 8] and the federal government have passed new mine safety laws . But in the mines themselves , little has changed . • There 's still no better way to communicate with miners below ground ; • Wireless communications wo n't be required until 2009 ; • Electronic tracking systems for miners are still on the drawing board ; • Underground emergency safe rooms are still not required by law ; and • Mines have another year to position more rescue teams . Davitt McAteer is a mine safety expert who once ran the government 's 4 Mine Safety and Health Administration and led [9 9 West Virginia 9] 's [10 10 Sago Mine 10] investigation .

`` We need to have a way to communicate with trapped miners , '' McAteer says . `` We need to protect trapped miners until we can get to them , and we need to have a way that we can provide them with the breathing apparatus and the air system so they can stay alive . '' What has changed in mine safety since the 5 Sago tragedy : • Improved emergency procedures and training is now required ; • There are more federal mine inspectors and tougher fines for safety violations ; and • Mines must now notify the federal government within 15 minutes of an accident . Still not required , though are underground emergency safe rooms . The union representing many of the nation 's 73,000 coal miners says it 's a sign of priorities . `` There 's still just an attitude out there that production comes first and safety is a convenient thing and it comes second , '' says Dennis O'Dell of [11 11 United M ine Workers of America 11] . These are boom times for the coal industry , producing a record 1.17 billion tons of coal in 2006 , but also the highest death toll in 11 years .

[1 1 Chertoff 1] pledges to address communications Homeland security secretary acknowledges friction has hindered progress [2 2 WASHINGTON 2] - The nation 's homeland security chief pledged Wednesday that 75 metropolitan areas would have advanced disaster communications systems by 2009 but acknowledged that friction among emergency agencies continues to hinder progress . `` We are determined to get this job done in the next two years , '' 1 Homeland Security Secretary [3 3 Michael Chertoff 3] said at a news briefing . He did not say how much the effort would cost , but so far the government has distributed more than $ 2.9 billion to communities around the country with mixed results . [4 4 Democrats 4] who will control [5 5 Congress 5] this year have also promised to make communications upgrades a priority , but have provided little detail . [6 6 Chertoff 6] released a survey of how well the 75 [7 7 U.S. 7] communities have prepared their first responders to communicate during a catastrophe . More than five years after the attacks of Sept. 11 , 2001 , exposed severe weaknesses in the ability of emergency workers to communicate with each other , the report gave only six of the areas studied the highest grades . Portions of the report had been obtained Tuesday by [8 8 The Associated Press 8] . ` Longstanding cultural differences ' [9 9 Chertoff 9] said Wednesday that since the [1 Sept. 1] 11 terrorist attacks , agencies have tried to overcome old turf rivalries that can hamper emergency work . `` In some communities , not all , there are some longstanding cultural differences between different kinds of responders , '' including police , firefighters and medical personnel , [10 10 Chertoff 10] said . `` I think that is a challenge and that culture has been a challenge . '' The report found that while emergency agencies in more than 60 percent of the communities studied had the ability to talk to each other during a crisis , only 21 percent overall showed `` the seamless use '' of equipment needed to also communicate with state and federal officials . The report 's highest ratings went to the [11 11 Washington 11] , [12 12 D.C. 12] , area ; [13 13 San Diego 13] ; 2 Minneapolis-St . Paul ; [14 14 Columbus 14] , [15 15 Ohio 15] ; [16 16 Sioux Falls 16] , [17 17 S.D. 17] ; and [18 18 Laramie County 18] , [19 19 Wyo. 19] . The lowest scores went to [20 20 Chicago 20] ; [21 21 Cleveland 21] ; [22 22 Baton Rouge 22] , [23 23 La. 23] . ; 3 Mandan , 4 N.D. ; and [24 24 American Samoa 24] . The report includes large and small cities and their suburbs , along with [2 5 U.S. 2] territories . In an overview , the report says all 75 areas surveyed have policies in place for helping their emergency workers communicate . But it also finds that `` formalized governance -LRB- leadership and planning -RRB- across regions has lagged . '' The study is likely to add fuel to what looms as a battle in [25 25 Congress 25] this year . [26 26 Democrats 26] who take over the majority this week have promised to try fixing the problem emergency agencies have communicating with each other but have not said specifically what they will do , how much it will cost or how they will pay for it . `` Five years after 9/11 , we continue to turn a deaf ear to gaps in interoperable communications , '' -- the term used for emergency agencies ' abilities to talk to each other , said Sen. [27 27 Charles Schumer 27] , D-N.Y. `` If it did n't have such potentially devastating consequences , it would be laughable . '' The attacks of Sept. 11 , 2001 , revealed major problems in how well emergency agencies were able to talk to each other during a catastrophe . Many firefighters climbing the [28 28 World Trade Center 28] towers died when they were unable to hear police radio warnings to leave the crumbling buildings . The report says first responders in [29 29 New York 29] now have well-established systems to communicate with each other -- but not the best , most advanced possible . Thirteen [30 30 U.S. 30] cities score better than [31 31 New York 31] . Judged in three categories Communities were judged in three categories : operating procedures in place , use of communications systems and how effectively local governments have coordinated in preparation for a disaster . Most of the areas surveyed included cities and their surrounding communities , based on the assumption that in a major crisis emergency personnel from all local jurisdictions would respond . The areas with the six best scores were judged advanced in all three categories . The cities with the lowest grades had reached the early implementation stage for only one category , and intermediate grades in the other two categories . The 6 Chicago Office of Emergency Management and Communications took issue with the report 's methodology and findings . `` We strongly disagree with the results of this study , and feel that the parameters of the study were inconsistent and limited , '' the statement said . Tammy Lapp , the emergency coordinator for [32 32 Mandan 32] and [33 33 Morton County 33] , 7 N.D. , said she was not surprised by their low ranking on the scorecard . `` We knew with our limited funds , we were going to fall short , '' she said .

Muslim with U.S. family is held , turned away Authorities detain businessman of Syrian descent for four days in Las Vegas FRESNO , Calif. . - A German businessman of Syrian descent who wanted to surprise his daughter with a holiday visit was detained for four days in a Las Vegas holding cell before being sent back home without explanation . A civil rights group called the U.S. authorities ' treatment of Majed Shehadeh a case of anti-Muslim discrimination . Shehadeh , 62 , flew from Frankfurt to Las Vegas last Thursday , hoping to meet with his wife and drive to Bakersfield , California , where his American-born daughter had just gotten news she had passed the California bar exam . Instead , he wound up shivering in a holding cell without ever being told why he could n't enter the country , he said . Roxanne Hercules , a spokeswoman for U.S. Customs and Border Protection , confirmed Tuesday that Shehadeh was denied entry , but would not discuss specifics of his case . She said Shehadeh 's visa waiver could have been denied because `` he could have a criminal record , or it could be a terrorism issue . '' The detention follows a series of similar incidents involving Muslim passengers , according to the Council on American-Islamic Relations . In October , an Islamic scholar from South Africa was denied entry at San Francisco International Airport . A month later , six imams were taken off a US Airways flight from Minneapolis to Phoenix after a passenger reported overhearing them criticize the U.S. war in Iraq . `` Overall these cases send a message that Muslims are second-class citizens who can be detained and kept from their families , '' said Affad Shaikh , a civil rights coordinator for CAIR . ` Nobody ever informed me why ' Shehadeh touched down Thursday afternoon on a direct Condor Airlines flight to McCarran International Airport , where his American wife was waiting to pick him up . The couple had planned to visit family in the Las Vegas area , before surprising their daughter for the New Year and celebrating her wedding anniversary in Central California . `` I gave them my German passport , and he looked to see which countries I visited . He found I had stamps that looked like Arabic and asked if they were fake , '' Shehadeh said Tuesday in a phone interview from his home in Alzenau , a small Bavarian village . `` Nobody ever informed me why I was being questioned , '' he said . `` All that was ever told to me was this had to do with Washington . '' After being interrogated by Border Protection and FBI agents for more than 12 hours at the airport , Shehadeh said he was handcuffed and transported in the back of police car to a North Las Vegas jail . Officials told family members they had denied Shehadeh 's visa waiver , which grants [15 German 15] citizens the right to enter the [27 27 U.S. 27] with no additional paperwork , said his wife Joanne Mulligan . Officials with 9 U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement said they could not comment on why he was denied entry . [28 2 8 FBI 28] and airport officials in [29 29 Las Vegas 29] also declined comment . ` Never even had a speeding ticket ' An aide to Sen. [16 Dianne Feinstein 16] later told the family that Shehadeh was on a `` look-out list , '' Mulligan said . [17 Feinstein 17] 's office confirmed Tuesday that the family contacted her , but would n't comment further . `` I said you 've got to be joking me , he 's never even had a speeding ticket , '' said Mulligan , a retired math teacher for the [18 U.S. 18] military . `` I mean , we 're [19 Muslims 19] , and we travel a lot . Maybe the countries we travel to are not the countries they want you to visit . '' Once in the holding facility , Shehadeh said he was stripped of his shoes , jacket and prescribed heart medicine and locked in a cell with about 25 other detainees . There was one toilet in the middle of the room , and access to a telephone was extremely limited , he said . On Sunday , he was released and sent back to [20 Frankfurt 20] on the same charter airline . Shehadeh 's daughter Majida Shehadeh said she was glad her father made it home , but feared he would n't be able to return to visit . `` I used to be happy I moved here , '' she said . `` But now I ca n't wait for when I leave here . The mentality is not what it was like beforehand . ''

 [1 1 Gerald Ford 1] laid to rest in [2 2 Michigan 2] Burial of ex-president , ` hometown hero ' caps eight days of mourning [3 3 GRAND RAPIDS 3] , [4 4 Mich. 4] . - [5 5 Gerald R. Ford 5] was laid to rest on the grounds of his presidential museum Wednesday after eight days of mourning and remembrance that spanned the country , from the [1 1 California 1] desert to the nation 's capital and back to [6 6 Ford 6] 's boyhood home . The sunset burial capped the official mourning for the 38th president after a 17-hour viewing Tuesday night and Wednesday at the museum in his hometown . At a graveside service that included a 21-gun salute and a 21-aircraft flyover , 2 Vice President [7 7 Dick Cheney 7] presented former first lady [8 8 Betty Ford 8] with the [2 3 American 2] flag that was draped over her husband 's casket . Earlier , [9 9 Ford 9] was remembered as a man not afraid to laugh , make tough decisions or listen to the advice of his independent wife in eulogies delivered during a funeral at the church the couple attended for six decades . An honor guard carried the casket inside Grace Episcopal Church , where [10 10 Ford 10] 's defense secretary , [11 11 Donald Rumsfeld 11] , and [12 12 Ford 12] 's successor , [13 13 Jimmy Carter 13] , recalled his public service . [14 14 Rumsfeld 14] : ` He was one of us ' His widow wiped away tears as she sat with the couple 's four children and more than 300 dignitaries and family friends , including golfing legend [15 15 Jack Nicklaus 15] . `` He was one of us , '' [16 16 Rumsfeld 16] said , `` And that made him special and needed in a dark and dangerous hour for our nation . '' [17 17 Rumsfeld 17] , who recently left his post as 18 President [18 Bush 18] 's defense secretary , remembered [19 19 Ford 19] as a courageous and steady leader who healed the nation after [20 20 Watergate 20] . [21 21 Rumsfeld 21] said the [22 22 Navy 22] is considering naming a new aircraft carrier after [23 23 Ford 23] , a [3 Navy 3] veteran . A decision is expected later this month . `` How fitting it would be that the name [24 24 Gerald R. Ford 24] will patrol the high seas for decades to come in defense of the nation he loved so much , '' he said . [4 Carter 4] described the close personal friendship he and [25 25 Ford 25] developed over the years . `` I relished his sound advice , '' [26 26 Carter 26] said as his wife , [27 27 Rosalynn 27] , cried . `` I want to thank my predecessor for all he did to heal our land . '' Thousands of flag-waving mourners lined the roads under sunny skies as the motorcade bearing [28 28 Ford 28] 's casket traveled between his presidential museum in downtown [29 29 Grand Rapids 29] to the church , before returning to the museum . Viewing period extended The viewing had to be extended Wednesday until nearly noon so everyone in line could pay their respects . Some 57,000 mourners waited hours to file past the flag-draped casket during the night . Some stopped and made silent prayers . `` We 're here to honor him , '' said Philip Bareham of [30 30 Lansing 30] , who was the last person to view the casket and whose parents were among [31 31 Ford 31] 's earliest supporters and political allies . `` We just love this family . They are so down to earth . '' [32 32 Ford 32] represented [33 33 Grand Rapids 33] in [34 34 Congress 34] for 25 years . His family had belonged to Grace Episcopal Church since the early 1940s . [35 35 Richard Norton Smith 35] , an author , presidential historian and former director of [36 36 Ford 36] 's museum and library , reminded mourners how important [37 37 Ford 37] 's hometown was to him . '' [38 38 Grand Rapids 38] returned his affection many times over , '' which was `` unforgettably demonstrated by the tens of thousands who stood in line for hours outside the museum , braving the cold to assure that his last night was anything but lonely , '' 4 Smith said . Draped over the back of one pew at the funeral was a blue blanket with the letter `` M '' emblazoned on it , symbolizing [39 39 Ford 39] 's alma mater , the [40 40 University of Michigan 40] , where he played football for national championship teams in 1932 and 1933 . Many of the mourners at the museum and lining the roads during his funeral procession on Wednesday wore [41 41 Michigan 41] hats and sweat shirts in his honor . [42 42 Ford 42] , who became president after [43 43 Richard Nixon 43] resigned , died Dec. 26 at his home in [44 44 Rancho Mirage 44] , [45 45 Calif. 45] . He was 93 .

 What we 'll want in a president How will [1 American 1] voters compensate in the 2008 election ? [1 1 WASHINGTON 1] - Now that the 38th president has been laid to rest , the capital can take up the main business of 2007 : trying to
the country want ? Here is my sense of it , based on talking to politicians , strategists and voters here and around the nation . No ideologues , please There was a time when 2 Presi dent [2 George W. Bush 2] 's ideological certitude was politically appealing and perhaps functionally necessary .
That time has long since passed . The country is tired , even fearful , of leaders with fervent beliefs that seem impervious to new -LRB- or even old -RRB- facts . Voters see the war in [3 3 Iraq 3] as an `` idea , '' not a solution -- and [2 Americans 2] do not like ideas that do not work .
Voters likely will view [4 4 Bush 4] 's `` surge '' of troops into [5 5 Iraq 5] as new evidence of failure , and the dangers of a leader who depends on preconceived ideas .
Serious student Presidential elections are a never-ending series of mid-course corrections . Voters look to compensate for the leadership weaknesses of the incumbent . An example comes from the life and career of [6 6 Gerald Ford 6] . In 1976 , voters wanted a pure antidote to [7 7 Richard Nixon 7]
's paranoid megalomania . Once [8 8 Ford 8] pardoned [9 9 Nix on 9] , he could not be that candidate . Instead , [3 Americans 3] chose [10 10 Jimmy Carter 10] , a peanut farmer who had never worked in [11 11 Washington 11] , and who promised never to lie to the [4 1 American 4] people . The counterpoint thinking continues . Voters in 2008 are going to want someone who prides himself -LRB- or herself -RRB- on spending time in the library -- who has a hands-on curiosity about the details . [5 Washington 5] experience not necessary Voters these days not only do not value [6 Washington 6] experience -- or any office-holding experience -- it can make them suspicious . That is what strategists and polltakers for Sen. [12 12 Evan Bayh 12] found when they studied whether he should run for president . They found that his remarkably deep resume -- the son of a senator , he was the `` boy governor '' of [13 13 Indiana 13] before going to the 2 Senate -- was as handicap . [7 Americans 7] always are dubious about the capital , but that sentiment seems particularly strong . [14 14 Bayh 14] decided not to run . '' ` [15 15 Washington 15] ' does n't make the case , '' said [16 16 Dan Pfeiffer 16] , who worked for [17 17 Bayh 17] . No more boomer obsessions Not all elections are about change , but 2008 will be . [8 Americans 8] are moderately upbeat about the country 's prospects , but deeply worried about the world -- and they have come to realize that they ca n't separate one from the other . One thing for sure , says [18 18 Pfeiffer 18] , voters are tired of arguing about the culture of the 1960s and other Boomer issues . `` There is a sense that the 2004 election was too much about who did or did not do what in [9 3 Vietnam 9] , '' said [19 19 Pfeiffer 19] , referring to the [1 0 4 Bush 10] campaign against Sen. [20 20 John Kerry 20] . In 2000 , [21 21 Bush 21] won in part by selling himself as a `` grown up '' Boomer answer to [22 22 Bill Clinton 22] . `` Voters are tired of that era and its concerns , '' said [23 23 Pfeiffer 23] said . `` They want to move on . '' Know the middle class [11 Bushes 11] have a congenital family problem with this , and it leaves an opening for someone -- of either party -- who can prove that he or she really understands the strains of middle class life . It 's not just about money , but about cultural assaults and the lack of time for family in an era when both parents or partners need to work . In his forthcoming book , Positively American , Sen. [24 24 Charles S chumer 24] of [12 5 New York 12] imagines the hard life of a fictitious middle class family -- and offers a series of governmental proposals to address them . A shrewd student of the [13 American 13] mood , [25 25 Schumer 25] is aiming in the right direction . The next president will need to show that he or she understands that family .

 [1 1 Al-Maliki 1] adviser says official who supervised execution is target of probe [2 2 BAGHDAD 2] , [3 3 Iraq 3] - [4 4 Iraq 4] 's national security adviser told [5 5 NBC News 5 ] on Wednesday that three individuals have been arrested in connection with a video of [6 6 Saddam Hussein 6] 's execution that was leaked . `` I can officially now confirm the arrest of three individuals in the case of the execution of [7 7 Saddam Hussein 7] , '' said [1 Iraqi 1] national security adviser [8 8 Mowaffak 8] al-Rubaie . The arrests came after the announcement that officials were interrogating the person suspected of recording [9 9 Saddam 9] 's hanging via a mobile phone . `` The person who filmed the execution process has been arrested . ... Now he is under interrogation about the goals of his filming , '' said an adviser to the prime minister , speaking on condition of anonymity because he was not authorized to talk to the media . `` He was arrested by [2 1 Iraqi 2] forces . '' The video contained audio of witnesses telling [10 10 Saddam 10] to `` Go to hell '' and of the former leader responding to taunts that his tormentors were being unmanly . It surfaced on [11 11 Al-day [12 12 Saddam 12] was hanged . The [13 13 Associated Press official who supervised the execution . '' [15 15 Al-Maliki 15 ] announced Tuesday that he had ordered an investigation into the conduct of the execution team , who could be heard taunting [16 16 Saddam 16] in the moments before his hanging . A [3 3 U.S. 3] military spokesman , meanwhile , said the [17 17 United States 17] would have handled the execution differently had it been in charge . ' I did not see him taking pictures ' On Wednesday , an [4 Iraqi 4] prosecutor who was also present at the execution denied a report that he had accused national security adviser 4 al-Rubaie of possible responsibility for the leaked video . `` I am not accusing [18 18 Mowaffak 18] al-Rubaie , and I did not see him taking pictures , '' Munqith al-Faroon , a prosecutor in the case that sent [19 19 Saddam 19] to the gallows , told [20 20 The Associated Press 20] . `` But I saw two of the government officials who were ... present during the execution taking all the video of the execution , using the lights that were there for the official taping of the execution . They used mobile phone cameras . I do not know their names , but I would remember their faces , '' al-Faroon said in a telephone interview . The prosecutor said the two officials were openly taking video pictures , which are believed to be those which appeared on [21 21 Al-Jazeera 21] satellite and a 5 Web site within hours of [22 22 Saddam 22]

's execution . [23 The 23 New York Times 23] on Wednesday reported that al-Faroon told the newspaper `` one of two men he had seen holding a cell phone camera aloft to make a video of Mr. 6 Hussein 's last moments up to and past the point where he fell through the trapdoor was [24 24 Mowaffak al-Rubaie 24] , Mr. [25 25 Maliki 25] 's national security adviser . '' [5 The 7 Times 5] said it had been unable to reach 8 al-Rubaie for comment . [26 26 AP 26] also could not reach him Wednesday . His secretary said the security adviser , a close aide to [27 27 al-Maliki 27] , was in [28 28 Najaf 28] and would not return until later . Chants of ` [6 Muqtada 6] ' Al-Faroon said there were 14 [7 Iraqi 7] officials , including himself and another prosecutor , as well as three hangmen present for the execution . All the officials , he said , were flown by [8 U.S. 8] helicopter to the former military intelligence facility where [29 29 Saddam 29] was put to death in an execution chamber used by his own security men for years . The prosecutor said he believed all mobile phones had been confiscated before the flight and that some of the officials ' bodyguards , who arrived by car , had smuggled the camera phones to the two officials he had seen taking the video pictures . [30 30 Al-Arabiya 30] television reported that the person under arrest is one of the guards who was a member of the execution team , according to an [31 31 MSNBC 31] translator . There was no further information about whether the person under arrest was a guard or other official . Some of the last words [32 32 Saddam 32] heard , according to the leaked cell phone video , were a chant of '' [33 33 Muqtada 33] , [34 34 Muqtada 34] , [35 35 Muqtada 35] , '' a reference to [36 36 Muqtada al-Sadr 36] , the radical anti-American [9 Shiite 9] cleric , whose [37 37 Mahdi Army 37] militia is believed responsible for many killings that have targeted [38 38 Sunnis 38] and driven many from their homes . [39 39 Al-Sadr 39] 's father was killed by [40 40 Saddam 40] . The militant cleric is a key [41 41 al-Maliki 41] backer . [42 42 U.S. 42] response Maj. Gen. 9 William Caldwell , a [10 10 U.S. 10] military spokesman , told reporters Wednesday that the execution would have been handled differently had [11 11 U.S. 11] forces been in charge . `` If you are asking me : ` Would we have done things differently ? ' Yes , we would have . But that 's not our decision . That 's the government of [43 43 Iraq 43] 's decision , '' [44 44 Caldwell 44] said . He added that [45 45 Saddam 45] was `` dignified '' and `` courteous '' as he was transferred from [12 12 US 12] military control to [13 Iraqi 13] custody before he was executed . `` He spoke very well to our military police , as he always had , and when getting off at the prison site he said farewell to his interpreter ; he thanked the military police squad , '' 13 Caldwell said .

 [1 1 Hindus 1] throng to [2 2 Ganges 2] for bathing festival 1 Pilgrims believe dip in river during six week celebration will cleanse sin [3 3 ALLAHABAD 3] , [4 4 India 4] - Nearly half a million [5 5 Hindus 5] braved near-freezing temperatures to wash away their sins in the icy waters of the [6 6 Ganges 6] river in 2 northern [1 India 1] on Wednesday , the first day of a six-week festival . As many as 70 million people from [7 7 India 7] and abroad are expected over the whole '' [8 8 Ardh Kumbh Mela 8] '' or Half Pitcher Festival , billed as one of the largest gatherings on earth .
Men , women , children , holy men in saffron and the infirm gathered at the confluence of the [9 9 Ganges 9] , the [10 10 Yamuna 10] and a mythical third river in [11 11 Allahabad 11] city well before dawn , waiting for the sun to rise for the auspicious bath on the first day of the 42-day event . They chanted verses from [2 3 Hindu 2] scriptures and sang holy songs as they walked towards the bathing areas , some lying prostrate after every few steps to salute the gods . The festival falls midway between the '' [12 12 Maha Kumbh Mela 12 ] '' or the Great Pitcher Festival , celebrated once every 12 years . [3 Hindus 3] believe that bathing in the [13 13 Ganges 13] during the festivals cleanses them of sin , speeding the way to the attainment of nirvana or the afterlife . ` Like being with [4 God 4] ' After dipping in the polluted but sacred waters , many filled cans , bottles and steel containers for relatives and friends who could not make it .
Others sprinkled it on their dry clothes . `` It was a long-cherished desire to take a dip here during the [14 14 Kumbh Me la 14] , '' said Naba Kumar Ghosh , a young school teacher from the eastern [5 Indian 5] state of [15 15 West Bengal 15]
. `` The experience has been one of fulfillment , a complete cleansing of the inner self . '' Shakuntala , a 70-year-old woman who gave only one name , said she traveled all night from the central [6 Indian 6] state of [16 16 Madhya Pradesh 1 6] to bathe in the [17 17 Ganges 17] , just as she has done at every [18 18 Kumbh Mela 18] over the last 25 years . `` It was a divine experience , a dip in the holy waters is like being with [7 God 7] , '' she said . `` [8 God 8] willing , I will be here for the next ' [19 19 Kumbh 19] ' too '' . Rama Devi , an old woman from [20 20 Allahabad 20] who could not remember her age , has not missed a single [21 21 Kumbh 21] and was determined to make it this time despite her inability to walk . With roads closed to traffic , her 35-year-old son , a soldier in the [9 4 Indian 9] army , carried her on his back for the 6-mile walk from their house to the waters .

Tight security [22 22 Allahabad 22] , in the [10 5 Hindi 10] heartland state of [23 23 Uttar Pradesh 23] , is one of four spots where [24 24 Garuda 24] , the winged steed of [11 6 Hin du 11] god [25 25 Vishnu 25] , is said to have rested during a titanic battle with demons over a pitcher of divine nectar of immortality . 7 Garuda 's flight lasted 12 divine days , or 12 years of mortal time , hence the celebration of '' [26 2 6 Maha Kumbh Mela 26] '' every 12 years . The midway point between two such celebrations is also considered highly favorable because the position of the sun and the moon are the same as during the '' [27 27 Maha Kumbh 27] '' . The '' [2 8 28 Maha Kumbh Mela 28] '' in 1989 attracted 15 million pilgrims and the [29 29 Guinness Book of Records 29] dubbed it the largest gathering of human beings for a single purpose . The festival in 2001 drew between 50 and 70 million . Thousands of tents and camps have been built to house pilgrims across the 4,000 acre festival area and more than 10,000 policemen , including specially-trained `` terrorist spotters '' , have been deployed , authorities said .
